

MORNING APPEAL

WEDNESDAY...FEBRUARY 15

STATE BOARD OF ASSESSORS.

The bill to repeal the State Board of Assessors' Act passed the Assembly early in the session and was referred in the Senate to the Committee on Ways and Means. That Committee has not yet reported for or against the bill. Probably this is due to a press of other business which required the attention of the Committee. It is time, however, that the bill was reported, especially if the Senate intends to pass it. The repeal of the Act may necessitate changes in the revenue laws of the State, and it should be passed and sent to the Governor at once, so that the Legislature may have time to make those changes if the bill is approved.

While the Act may have good features and possibly might be amended so as to make it acceptable to the people, there is almost a unanimous demand for its repeal, and nothing less than that will satisfy the majority. It will not do to smother it in Committee, and if there is a member of the Committee who feels it to be a duty to represent the people and comply with the wishes of his constituents he will make an effort to get the bill out of committee and before the Senate immediately.

For some reason there seems to be an irrepressible conflict between officials and the people on the Board of Assessors' bill and similar measures. It is difficult to find a person outside of the State House, who is not in favor of repealing the bill; yet nearly all the State officers and several State Senators are said to be opposed to it. It is stated, too, as a fact that there are members of the Legislature who publicly advocate the repeal of the bill but will make no effort whatever to get the Committee to report it to the Senate. Is it possible that the people are wrong in demanding the repeal of the bill and that the State officers and a few members of the Legislature are right in desiring it kept on the Statutes?—Journal.

PREACHERS AND JOURNALISTS.

The ministers of Atlanta, Georgia have started a crusade against the journalists and propose to work a great reformation in the ways of modern journalism.

At a special meeting recently the ministers appointed a committee to wait upon the publishers and insist upon their adherence to the new policy. They desire that all police reports shall be excluded from the columns of the papers. The committee is headed by Rev. John Gleen a Methodist clergyman, a critic on modern newspapers. The idea of the ministers was that church societies, candy pullings and matters of like character should appear every morning with "sore" heads, while the doings of prize fighters and such people should be suppressed or dismissed in one line paragraphs. If the newspapers do not give in to the proposed reform the founders of the church are to be used to drive publishers into line.

This will only give the publishers a chance to have a lot of fun with the clerical asses and thereby increase their circulation.

GIVE THE PEOPLE A CHANCE

There is sound sense in the following from the Gazette:

The constitutional amendments are fairly before the legislature and a disposition is shown to pick out and shut off. A correspondent suggests the question why not let the people pick out? By passing all the amendments adopted at the last session and putting them before the voters of the State they could give their approval to such as they felt the need of, and vote down the rest. It is only fair to let the whole State decide such matters where it is possible and we endorse the suggestion and believe the legislature will also. This is a People's session. The members were elected as People's candidates without regard to old party ties. Let them give the people a chance.

The Stockton Mail has reached its thirtieth birthday. No more logical pen than that of its Editor Edward Colton is wielded west of the Rockies. A wise man always thinks twice before getting into a controversy on any subject with the Mail. It is a monumental credit to the profession.

A Mighty Fire.

No one should miss the Revival Meetings held in the Methodist Church each night this week. A great work of grace is in progress.
